

BUILDING A SUSTAINABLE AND RESILIENT BUSINESS COMMUNITY TOGETHER

Redcliffe
& Temple
BID

"Destination Bristol has a proven track record for implementing two very successful BIDs in Bristol.

I am excited to be part of this new BID. For me it's really important that the area is given a clear identity and that there is a presence working hard to improve the look of the area, bringing more greenery, more colour, more life – all of which will benefit my guests and my staff"

Imran Ali – DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel, Bristol City Centre

"I believe the Redcliffe & Temple BID will provide all local businesses with the opportunity to shape plans to improve and enhance the area. By partnering on this, we have an opportunity to work together for the benefit of our businesses, our staff and our wider community. We believe the BID will support the transformation of the area and ensure it becomes a safe, welcoming and vibrant district."

Laura Nutt - SLR Consulting

"As part of the Broadmead BID management group since its inception in 2005, I have seen how the BID team transformed Broadmead into a vibrant, thriving retail destination. I am now delighted to be part of this new BID which will represent all the businesses in the BID area and deliver the ambitious projects set out in the Business Plan."

William Jukes – Clarke Willmott

"I have seen the positive improvements delivered by BIDs both in Bristol and in other towns and cities and think there are so many opportunities for the Redcliffe and Temple businesses. This BID will be focused on connecting businesses, supporting them to flourish and making the area one in which everyone is proud to work"

James Durie – Business West

"We are pleased to support the proposals set out by the BID and look forward to voting in March. It is really important that sustainability is at the heart of the recovery from the pandemic and the initiatives proposed will help bring businesses together to support Bristol's sustainability plans."

Lucinda Mitchell – First Base

"This BID offers a great opportunity to create an identity for the Redcliffe and Temple area, providing real benefits for our business and our staff.

Working together we can influence how the area grows, ensure that it is well managed and that our staff benefit from collaborative projects focused on improving their working environment and well-being as well as contributing back to the community."

Jon Bower – Womble Bond Dickinson

"I am proud to have been a key player in transforming and regenerating the Redcliffe area. We now need this BID to underpin the ongoing developments, to invest in the area and to ensure that it is clean, safe and dynamic so that all can prosper. Please join me in backing the BID!"

Gavin Bridge – Spatia

“Successful cities must be ambitious and proactive; they must be well managed and effectively promoted. This BID will enable us all to work more closely together, improving the area for business and giving us the edge over other commercial locations.”

Chris Hays – Cushman and Wakefield

“We are excited about the benefits the BID will bring to the area, from improved safety to making it a better place for our staff. For smaller business like ours, having the BID to support and represent us will be invaluable”

Anna Ball – Village Design

“I have been delighted to support the development of this BID as part of the Advisory Group. The BID team has a wealth of experience in delivering projects which improve business communities and their proposals include a wide range of environmental initiatives which will have a lasting and positive impact on the area.”

Barry Williams - Barton Willmore

“BIDs have played a major role in the success of Bristol city centre since the first one in Broadmead in 2005.

They offer a particular flexibility and prompt response to everyday problems. The team has a proven track record and I have no doubt that they will succeed in creating vibrant, well managed places and a well-connected business community in the Redcliffe and Temple area.”
